Meet the Innovators Who Changed Our Lives

From the ancient thinkers who laid the foundations of science and engineering to the modern-day pioneers who are revolutionizing the way we live, 64 Geeks celebrates the extraordinary lives and groundbreaking contributions of the world's most influential technological visionaries.

In this fascinating and accessible book, you'll encounter:

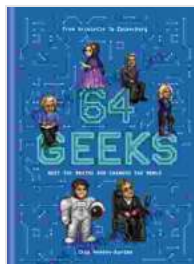

- The ancient Greek mathematician Archimedes, who invented the Archimedes screw and the lever.
- Leonardo da Vinci, the Renaissance artist and engineer whose inventions included flying machines and submarines.
- Nikola Tesla, the Serbian-American inventor who developed the alternating current electrical system.
- Grace Hopper, the American computer scientist who was a pioneer in the development of programming languages.
- Steve Jobs, the co-founder of Apple, who revolutionized the personal computer industry.
- Elon Musk, the founder of SpaceX and Tesla, who is pushing the boundaries of space exploration and electric vehicles.

These are just a few of the 64 geeks who have shaped our world. Their stories are inspiring, their ideas are brilliant, and their legacies will continue to influence our lives for generations to come.
