A Tapestry of Love, Loss, and Identity

Laura Lam was born in Hong Kong but raised in the United States. As she grows up, she grapples with the conflicting expectations of her Chinese heritage and her American upbringing. She feels like an outsider in both worlds, struggling to find her place and reconcile the different parts of herself.

When her father suddenly passes away, Laura's world is turned upside down. She travels to Hong Kong for the first time to attend his funeral and is confronted with the family and culture she left behind. Through interactions with her extended family and exploration of her father's past, Laura begins to piece together the puzzle of her identity.

A Journey of Self-Discovery

As Laura delves deeper into her family's history, she uncovers secrets and long-held resentments. She learns about the sacrifices her parents made for her and the challenges they faced as immigrants. Through these revelations, Laura gains a newfound appreciation for her heritage and a deeper understanding of herself.

Laura's journey is not without its challenges. She faces prejudice and discrimination, both overt and subtle.
